EFFECT OF SPEECH DEPENDS ON WAY U. S. BACKS IT

Show of Strength and Determination Necessary if Germany is Impressed

TO SLOW DOWN WILL GIVE KAISER ADVANTAGE

Extent of Camouflage Will Measure Desire of Powers For Peace

By Carl D. Groat

Washington, Jan. 10.—America's war work the next few months will determine Germany's attitude toward President Wilson's terms, officials here advised today.

If we go in with all our strength,—earnestly, enthusiastically and whole heartedly—it will do more than anything else to bring early peace, the experts said. On the other hand, if America slows down under the thot that peace is near, the tale will be far different, officials believe.

Meantime, Germany may appear to yield as far as possible to the Lloyd-George and Wilson terms. The extent to which she camouflages certain sections will measure just how badly she wants peace.

This is how officials prophecy the next steps in this mighty maneuver which has already laid the foundation for peace.

1. That Germany will answer the terms, accepting some, appearing to accept others.

2. She will continue a west front offensive this spring and summer. If fall finds her without a big victory to her credit, she will then set about in earnest to negotiate peace.

3. Russia will do—what? If Linine and Trotsky permit frank publication of the Wilson message in the Russian press that will mean a long stride toward swinging Russia back to the allies. If they try to suppress it totally or partially, it will mean they are not to be trusted and that Wilson's doctrine must be spread by American propanganda, slowly.

As for the United States, its position is:

"Our aims have been stated; take them or leave them." Hence, it will proceed with its plans for war, while at the same time it spreads in Russia, and so far as possible, in Austria and in Germany its appeals to liberal minds to cut loose from militarism and join the new congress of nations where all are equal.

The state department is waiting to ascertain now the government-controlled German press is permitted to deal with the Wilson message. If it is printed with deletions or mistranslations, the message will then be put over to Germany by the air route and otherwise.

ENGLAND WANTS MORE DETAILS ON SEA POLICY

Ask Explanation of Wilson's Aim In Reference to "Freedom of Seas"

WAR TERMS BRING EDITORIAL APPROVAL

Newspapers Join In Praising Direct, Clear-cut Outline Of President

London, Jan. 10.—Britain would like more details concerning President Wilson's aim for "freedom of the seas."

In the general chorus of editorial approval voiced in the morning papers, over the direct, clear-cut outlines of peace terms by the American executive, there was nevertheless a clear note of anxiety as to exactly what was meant by freedom of the seas.

The dominant British feeling is still opposed to complete disarmament on the seas—unless there is an effective international league with widest police powers. Some of the more conservative Britishers recognize the possibility of positions being reversed, putting England at Germany's mercy. In this connection, it was recalled the Declaration of London in 1910 was defeated in the house of Lords. It sought to deal with this question.

On the other hand, there was general recognition of the fact that the whole question was one for after the war solution and in the meantime, all factions realized President Wilson's statement on this as a shrewd move to strengthen the German Liberals.

The conservative press today held doubts as to whether President Wilson had "considered the hard realities of the situation."

Stress was laid on the latest German atrocity in the sinking of the hospital ship Rewa as indicative of the sort of foes with which the British have to deal.

The Liberals expressed emphatic determination to go the whole distance with President Wilson.

U. S. BREAKS RECORDS IN RAISING ARMY

No Other of Similar Size Ever Raised, Equipped Or Trained So Quickly

SECY. BAKER BOASTS OF WORK TO PROBERS

Says American Accomplishments Are Such as to Depress Germans

Washington, Jan. 10.—"No army of similar size in the history of the world has ever been raised, equipped or trained so quickly," as the present American army, Secretary of War Baker today told senate military probers investigating his department.

Pointing to the fact that in nine months, all branches of the army has grown from 9,524 officers to 110,856 officers and from 202,510 men to 1,428,560 men, he answered his critics with a broad outline of work accomplished—a work which he held showed the "splendid effectiveness" of the Amercian people.

American accomplishments, he said are such as to depress German morale, "when the Germans realize that the American democracy has neither blundered nor hesitated, but has actually brought the full power of its men and resources into completely organized strength against their military machine."

STOKOWSKI IS GREETED IN AUDITORIUM WITH OVATION

The steady development in breadth of vision, depth of feeling, intellectual and spiritual intuition, controlled power and interpretative skill that mark Leopold Stokowski and his marvellously responsive group of players is as remarkable as the rapidity with which this conductor and his superb organization have attained a foremost place in the musical world. The Normal concert course audience in Pease auditorium last evening, which greeted Stokowski with an ovation when he appeared on the platform and sat breathless under the spell of his revelation of the great Russian Tschaikowsky, were deeply impressed with this evident growth, this being the third year that they have been privileged to hear this magnificent orchestra.

Among the striking features of the Philadelphia Orchestra's playing are its notable attack, its delicately shaded interpretation of the lighter or more lyric passages, its astonishing building up of tremendous climaxes, as in the third movement of the symphony, its great power in depicting the sweeping, passionate emotions, and its absolute response to even the slightest movement of the slender yet commanding finger tips of its masterful conductor. Stokowski's calm serenity, the poise and restraint which keeps his interpretations free from weak sentimentality or morbidness while marvelously depicting the most tempestuous emotion or the most ten der feeling, and the personal intensity that electrifies an audience and compels his best from every player—these seemed raised to the nth power last evening. From the moment when, with a graceful sweep of his baton, Stokowski drew the orchestra to their feet to play with glowing fervor the majestic strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" in a way that brot the audience upstanding instinctively, to the last tremendous climax of the "1812 Overture," Stokowski held his hearers entranced. Eastern critics have begun to say that marvelously as this young conductor interprets all composers, he seems to have especial sympathy and skill with Tschaikowsky, that the combination of a wealth of lyrical feeling and dramatic quality is characteristic of both men, and that this conductor has revealed as has no other the real greatness of the Russian composer.

The "Symphony Pathetique" is a favorite with orchestras, but the Philadelphia players revealed new beauties and an underlying significance throughout. The turbulence and agitation and uncertainty of most of the first movement seem very descriptive of the unhappy state of Russia today, and the exquisite lyric interlude with its calm and tender beauty may perhaps be regarded as a sign of the something that seems to lie deep in the Russian nature and has frequently saved this groping nation from utter chaos. The charming second movement with its airy grace, its interlude of pathos, and its warmth of color was delightfully, played. In the third movement, chaos again seems supreme, though at times the regular beat of a military march is for the moment dominant, and the movement ends in a perfect tempest of riotous emotion. In this the barbaric quality of the Russian is dominant. The fourth movement was marvelously interpreted, its melancholy, lightened at first by a lovely melody, increases to tumult and abandonment to passion, so intense as to wear itself out, and the end is of dark, desolate and resigned despair. Twice during this symphony Stokowski was given a spontaneous ovation, which he called upon his orchestra to share.

In absolute contrast to the sombre symphony was that masterpiece of ballet music, the famous "Nutcracker Suite," which followed. This was a gem of flawless execution, its whimsical charm, its delicate grace and lovely melodic quality being exquisitely brought out. From the dainty formal "Overture," with its picture of whirling sylphs, through the inimitable characteristic dances—the curious and brilliant march; the fascinating "Danse des fees," in which the silvery, bell-like tinkle of the celesta dominates; the barbaric swirling Russian dance; the dreamy, voluptuous Oriental Arab dance, the "Danse Chinois,"with its shrieking flute and its general effect of exercising evil spirits; and the graceful and fanciful "Danse des Mirilfons"—to the bewitching "Valse des Fleurs," with its irresistible charm, the entire suite was an unalloyed joy.

The "1812 Overture," portraying Napoleon's Russian campaign, is usually a mere tour de force, but Stokowski's reading gave it real significance and dignity. He made the early part, usually slighted, a revelation of feeling, and skillfully swept his hearers through the emotionalism of the second portion, with the thrilling notes of the Marseillaise wrought into the story of the advance of the army, into the passion and tumult of the terrible catastrophe that was the beginning of the end for Napoleon. Orchestra and conductor were given another ovation at the close of the program.

After the concert the orchestra and Stokowski stayed to listen to the Normal choir's superb rendering of several of the numbers from the Russian liturgy, which they evidently greatly appreciated.

COUNTY ROAD SYSTEM TABLED BY SUPERVISORS

RESOLUTION IS INTRODUCED BY SUPERVISOR GAUDY, SALARY CHANGES ARE ORDERED

The attempt being made to have the county road system submitted for vote at the next general election in Washtenaw county is traveling a stormy road at the hands of the supervisors now in session. Resolution to start the movement introduced by Supervisor Gaudy has been tabled and may have to wait over another season.

A change is to made in the salary of the county sheriff at the October sessions of the county supervisors to coincide with the new arrangement for feeding county prisoners, according to the report of the special committee presented to the board. The present salary is $2,500 and ten cents per meal for feeding prisoners. The new plan provides for purchase of the food according to plans approved by the supervisors and further censorship, the details of which have not been completed.

The committee also recommended that every deputy sheriff in the county be salaried.

Wm. Bacon, Samuel Hammel and Edwin Groves were approved as county auditors for the ensuing year. Sup. Madden introduced the new law pertaining to the election of auditors by the supervisors instead of a general election to the board and advocated its adoption by the county. He also presented copies of advertisements prepared as part of an educational campaign which will show the voters the benefits of the new law.

After considerable discussion the board adopted a resolution offered by Supervisor Gaudy providing for a maximum of 12 meetings per year for the road commissioners, who, he said, are holding altogether too many meetings. The remuneration is to be fixed at $5 per member per meeting.

Resolution providing for the sale of a parcel of county property to Robert J. Counselor for $1100 was introduced by Supervisor Gaudy. The

SUFFRAGE BILL BEFORE HOUSE THIS AFTERNOON

Suffrage Leaders Are Jubilant Today, Say Wilson Support Saves Day

DECLARE HIS OPEN FAVOR MEANS VICTORY

House Will Have Dozen Votes To Spare, Rep. Jeannette Rankin Predicts

Washington, Jan. 10.—Through influence of Pres. Wilson the suffrage amendment will be voted on by the house this afternoon.

Jubilant suffrage leaders today declared the president's open advocacy of their cause made victory sure.

The immediate result of the president's action was a promise by the 12 representatives who visited him to support the amendment. Suffrage leaders said today it undoubtedly would swing many more votes to them. Presentative Jeanette Rankin, ranking republican member of the house suffrage committee, said "we will have more than a dozen votes above the two thirds required."

A republican caucus urged republicans to fall in line. Several southern democrats have been won over in the past week, suffrage leaders claimed today.

Breaking the solid south was regarded as the suffragists' hardest task.

Now that the president has come out definitely in favor of congressional action, suffragists will invade the senate immediately after the houes vote, not matter which way it goes. The senate resolution is a separate measure and is on the calendar.

RUSS UNITED ON GERMAN PEACE PLAN

Indcations Are That Negotiations Will Be Transferred To Neutral Soil

UKRAINIA AND RUSSIA HAVE JOINED HANDS

"We Will Not Bend Our Heads To German Imperialism," Is Trotsky Word

By Joseph Shaplen

Petrograd, Jan. 10—Ukrainia and Russia have joined hands in the peace negotiatinos with Germany.

Dispatches received from Brest-Litovsk today expresed firm conviction that with a united front shown by all Russian delegates, the Russian plan for transfer of peace negotiations to neutral soil would be forced upon the Germans.

The messages from Brest-Litovsk, which gave this news, also carried the following report:

"On Monday ((Russian Christmas Day) we crosed the trenches. Our soldiers declared they were ready to support our peace efforts at all costs, but the added:

"Remember, we want peace—but not peace at any price."

Trotsky replied to them:

"We will not bend our heads to German imperialism. Russia did not overthrow Czarism to become the subject of another kind of slavery. You may feel certain that with your support we will sign only an honorable peace."

The Russian peace delegates were taken to Brest-Litovsk in sleighs. They first met Ukrainian delegates, who had been waiting their arrival The Ukrainians agreed to publish a formal resolution recognizing the Bolsheviki government and the commisaries government on their agreed to Ukrainian independance. The Russians then communicated with the Germans, suggesting that the Ukrainians be instructed to partake in the negotiations. This was acepted. The Ukrainians and Russians, it was asserted, had agreed to manitain a solid and united front on all questions.

Today the first mater taken up by the general asembly was the transfer in the negotiations to Stockholm or some other neutral city. Dispatches from the Russian delegates today insisted they would not give up this demand on the Germans.

"The transfer of the negotiations to a place where a free vioce and a free hearing can be acorded instead of being continued in the stifling atmosphere of a ruined city's hermetrically sealed fortress, is essential," the mesage asserted.

GERMANS START TROOP MOVEMENT

CLOSING OF FRONTIERS AS ANNOUNCED, IS TAKEN TO MEAN ARMY TRANSFER

Berne, Jan. 10—Closing of the German-Swiss and German-Holland frontiers for a month, just as announced by the Germans, was taken today to presage extensive troops transfers. No travelers or merchandise during the next month will be allowed to cross these borders.

Presumably it means switch of the Teutonic troops from the Italian to the west front.

CHICAGO BABES GET TEA AND COFFEE

High Prices of Milk Force Mothers in "Little Italy" of Chicago To Substitution

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Babies in Chicago's "Little Italy" deprived of milk by high prices, are being fed tea and coffee, Miss Claudine Nelson, visiting nurse, declared today.

"The babies down there have always been hungry," said Miss Nelson, "but since last October, when the price of milk was put up, they have been more hungry."

Mutineers Bombard Lisbon.

Madrid, Jan. 10.—Another outbreak has occurred in Portugal, according to news reaching here from beyond the frontier. Crews of Portuguese warships mutinied and began bombarding the Lisbon forts, it is stated. The army, it appears, remained faithful to the government of Dr. Sidonia Paez and tranquility has been restored.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA
Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet — colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

Ladies! Keep It on The Dresser
Few drops on corn or callus stops pain, then they lift off.

Your high heels have put corns on your toes and calluses on your feet, but why care now?

This tiny bottle holds an almost magic fluid. A genius in Cincinnati discovered this ether compound and named it freezone. Small bottles of freezone can be had at any drug store for a few cents. Never limp or twist your face in pain again, but get a bottle of freezone and apply a few drops on your tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you lift it off with fingers.

Just think! You get rid of a hard corn, soft corn or a corn between the toes, as well as hardened calluses, without suffering one particle, without the slightest irritation of the surrounding skin. Just a touch of freezone on a sore corn gives instant relief.

ADVISES MOTHERS TO GIVE THEIR CHILDREN FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE FOR COLDS COUGHS AND BODY-BUILDING

"I have been giving my children Father John's Medicine for eleven months and have found very good results. My baby, Charlotte, of 17 months, was very small and did not thrive. I took her to several doctors but not until I began giving Father John's Medicine did she gain in weight. Both children have a good appetite and healthy color since I have given them Father John's Medicine. Have also found good results taking it myself as a builder. My advice to all mothers is to give their children Father John's Medicine." (Signed) Mrs. Lawrence Diemer, 723 Wythe Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Because it is guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs, Father John's Medicine is the safe family remedy for colds, coughs and grip. A doctor's prescription with 60 years of success.

Instead of a Cold This Winter

Before you take cold this winter, consider how much comfort and protection you would get from a

KUPPENHEIMER OVERCOAT

No, it won't cure a cold but a good overcoat built for protection, has been known to prevent a cold. A good big (not bulky) ulster is what we suggest; one that buttons over, double breasted, with a big generous collar to protect head, ears, neck and throat when it needs to.

We have plenty of other styles, too; dressy, comfortable, and made to give long service.
